The Qatiktalik (Fullerton Harbour) Photo Narrative Project

Who & What: Calgary's Glenbow Museum is coming to Igluligaarjuk with photographs of Qatiktalik (Fullerton Harbour) and its inhabitants taken by photographers Geraldine and Douglas Moodie between 1903 – 1905.

Where & When: Come meet with Glenbow's curator of Indigenous Studies and view the images at the Chesterfield Inlet Hamlet office from October 11 – October 12.

Why: We'd like you to add your story to the narratives about these rare historical photos. Information you provide will be added to the Glenbow Museums Archives database where the photographs currently reside. As a thank you to the community, a book of the photographs as well as digital images will be left at the Visitor Centre for continued use.

A public slide show will also take place October 11, Time TBD
