

Itsanitaq Museum

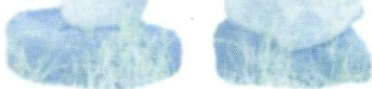

Charlie Sivuarapik
Puvirnituq, PQ

Come visit this internationally recognized collection of Indigenous art!

The Itsanitaq Museum had its origins in 1944 when Roman Catholic missionaries from the order of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate recognized the value of preserving “carvings” representative of the culture of the people of the North.

The exhibit pays tribute to the living creativity of the Inuit. Their creations constitute an invitation for us to deepen our vision of humanity and to enrich our communion with the mysterious and irresistible destiny that creates peoples, cultures and civilizations.

Inuksuk in front of the museum

Welcome

The Itsanitaq Museum is dedicated to advancing knowledge, understanding, and appreciation of Northern culture and history with an emphasis on the Canadian Inuit. The exhibits include historic and contemporary sculptures of stone, bone, and ivory, as well as archaeological and wildlife specimens.

Don't forget to visit our Gift Shop

We carry Inuit art and a large selection of books on Churchill and the North. We also carry postcards, art cards, jewellery, t-shirts and other souvenirs. Revenues generated from your purchases go directly into maintaining and improving the museum.

DISPLAY HOURS AND GIFT SHOP

Summer/Fall: (June to mid-November)

Monday 1 - 5 p.m.

Tuesday to Saturday 9 - 12 noon 1-5 p.m.

Winter: Monday to Saturday 1 - 4:30 p.m.

Note: We are closed on Sundays & public holidays

* TOUR GROUPS OVER 10

BY APPOINTMENT

Reference library open by appointment

The Churchill Eskimo Museum, Inc.

Box 10, Churchill, Manitoba, Canada R0B 0E0

Tel 1-204-675-2030 fax 675-2140